Experimenting with the different sounds of guitar, synths, and field recordings; Macedonian producer Martin Georgievski a.k.a. Amplidyne Effect creates an interpolation of ambient, experimental, and electronic music, ranging from subtle drones to noise-rock. The project's main themes are nature and space travel. Amplidyne Effect has worked on sound since 2009 and has collaborated on numerous improv sessions and collaborations with musicians from Argentina, the United States, and Macedonia, sometimes over live stream improvisations or by e-mail. fydhws is a one-man project coming from Prilep, Macedonia, started around 2006. His latest album, called 9, was released in the summer of 2013 and it is a blend of dark ambient soundscapes and cinematic atmosphere. Nowadays he is using orchestral arrangements over drone layered foundations, which is quite different from his debut releases - found on the two volume compilation Early Recordings - heavily influenced by the noise rock and no wave scenes. Apart of these major releases, two EPs are also available for download. Eden i Dva is a tribute to the NY based avant garde composer, Glenn Branca.

Additional music of his can be found under the name of Sferi - a onetime conceptual project about the 8 planets of our solar system, called Sound of the Spheres.

aiRless pRoject is an audio-manipulator/electronic musician/guitarist from the Republic of Macedonia. His real name is Vladimir Mitreski, and he's a bedroom DIY electronic musician from Prilep, Republic of Macedonia, who started making his own music under the stage name aiRless pRoject in 2002, around the time of the dissolution of his high school cover rock band called Infinity. His style varies and evolves within his albums, and could be loosely described as ambient-influenced electronica with subtle touches of IDM, downtempo/chillout, abstract, glitch, post-rock, and experimental. He often adds processed guitar playing to the programming, and has also used live processed soprano and alto saxophone on many songs (courtesy of Boro Milenkoski). Behind him are 10 LPs and 11 EPs which he self-releases on various sites like last.fm, bandcamp, and the like. Recently he made it into the roster of Macedonian label VOXPOPARTS.

Dimitar Dodovski is a producer based in Bitola, Macedonia. In his pieces he puts focus on texture, layers, and various loops and fragments that interfere with each other, thus resulting in complex sound sculptures. He believes in radio-friendly experimentalism; which is not a waste of the listener's time, but a carefully compressed view of what an artist has to say with sound. Dodovski's sound revolves around deep and beat oriented textures; varying from minimal dub, dubtech, techno, and house with a number of experimental influences that make his original signature. He likes walking out in the mountains, cuddling his cat, spending some time with precious friends, and a good sleep! He is one half of the ambient project Moss Garden with Lee Norris (UK) and one third of Postglobal Trio with Toni Dimitrov (MK) and Martin Georgievski (MK).

Post Global Trio is an experience. Experience that you can feel on the journey through distant lands. Inside or outside thyself. Images of clear and subtle soundscapes and landscapes. Enter into the woods. Leave the city behind the horizon. Forget about it... Now enter more deeply. In thyself. And find yourself. The way you were before you have long forgotten.

The project is created as a continuity of communication, collaboration, necessity of developing a certain scene. Sound picture of long-term mutual philosophical meditations. Post Global Trio is a project between Toni Dimitrov (electronics, field recordings, contact mic), Dimitar Dodovski (electronics), and Martin Georgievski (guitar, synth). For those who enjoy silence, the sound of nature, soundscapes, field recordings, 12k, Rural Colours, Preservation...
