SEMJASE

Bite down god,
grit your teeth and clinch your hands.
I am the architect,
we are the goat they are the lamb.
It's a long ways, and sideways,
can you take me through the sun's rays?
It's a long ways, and sideways
can you take me, Semjase?
Grey hyde worn, made of elephant skin.
Blind-sighted,
hold your breath and feel the pins.
This time is over.
It's a long ways, and sideways
can you take me through the sun's rays?
It's a long ways, and sideways
can you take me Semjase?

Semjase, veiled by the sun.
comes to me, warms the heart.
Down on my knees,
Semjase.
Long face, heavy heart.
Torn between us.

OF THE SPHERES/ MOUNTAINS OF CREATION

Why not take the light from the moon above
Whose wisdom is too bright for the saints below

The hunger of heavy stars
The deep breath of black holes

Dark stars fall into the direction of Always Bright stars linger on for revelation

The light dies within its trace
Arising wraith
A black hole has taken shape
Elysian gates

Why not take the light from the light from the moon above Whose wisdom is too bright for the saints below

The hunger of heavy stars
The deep breath of black holes

The light dies within its trace
Arising wraith
A black hole has taken shape
Elysian gates

Remains of stars
Dust on Elysian Fields Pillars rise
Mountains of Creation grow

With no sun above
In longing waits
Twin shadows part their ways
Into totality

The death of Sun
The shadows gaze

The long haze has come undone
Shadows pass
How the light awaits
