

Silber Sounds of Halloween

So it has been a little while since something in our free comp series has gotten out of our control. We were like, “Hey, let’s do a Halloween comp & do an open call for entries!” So we ended up with thirty tracks & over two hours of music. Also just a little too short in time to manufacture compact discs. So that’s why this time there are no physical copies at all. Just available on this thing called the internet.

This time out we have some of our best & longest time friends aboard like Lycia & Attrition & Remora & Electric Bird Noise as well as a ton of new friends & some bands actually making debut appearances. So we hope you dig the stuff & find new bands to like. Feel free to delete the ones you do not like & we won’t tell anyone.

Thanks for your interest & Happy Halloween.
