

The Nik Furious 5 in 5 EP, Super Wet, is more than a five minute micro-album – it’s a key to unlock the pathway to the nexus of reality. Each song is another number in a sequence that will reveal the path to reality’s control center... if you can uncover the secret to the sequence!

“Unsung” was created as a response to Jane Austen’s Sense & Sensibility. While Austen’s novel implies a merger of the subjects in its title, “Unsung” is a mantra to call forth a merger of infinity & zero. Once nothing is merged with everything, the release can truly begin.

“Hayze” is the first obstruction to overcome in the journey to the nexus of reality. If you can see through the haze of the conscious & into the depths of the unconscious, reality is revealed as another artificial construct of being.

“Le Fever” is the sickness the body experiences once it begins to transcend. As its final gasp, the physical form attempts to poison the mind through sensation. However, if you can survive the symptoms of the fever, you’re one step closer to freedom.

“Brave” is the most crucial component to the entire process of reaching the nexus of reality. Bravery in the face of the unexpected & unknown will provide the necessary fortitude to pass through the haze & live through the fever.

“Silber Funk pt 2” is the final step in the sequence... however – unlike the other songs on this EP – the title of the song is an encrypted message. If you can figure out what it really means, then you can transcend. If not, the binds of reality will continue to be your astral prison.
