

Ms.

Ms. is Shane de Leon. He's been part of the Silber family from the beginning trading copies of his zine Starbage Hands for copies of QRD back in 1995. He was in Rollerball (now Rllrbll) at the time & is the whole reason Silber got involved with working with them. Recently he's struck out as the bandleader of Miss Massive Snowflake (if you've never heard The Queen's Headache, you're dis-servicing yourself) & now we get to share with you his new quirky pop solo debut as Ms.

Ms. is a self-titled EP produced with love for Silber Records. It collects Macbook recordings made by de Leon while on various Miss Massive Snowflake tours. The songs are mainly built on loops & then guitars, synths, & collaborators are layered on top. Jamie Smith (Dang Head, Lords of Howling, Granfaloan Bus) brings his kids, guitar, & woodwind licks to the party on a few tracks, plus Ben Wright (Art of Flying, Lords of Howling, prolific American improviser) shows up with tuba on the EP's single, Tangled Up. Part dance, part sound experiment, all fun.
