

twelve

be careful what you don't wish for Six.By Seven's main man Chris Olley releases the second album in his 'TWELVE' electro/analogue side project. Originally started in 2000, it was intended to be a concept involving 12 songs released as 6 singles. However, with an offer of a deal, it became an album, released in the US and available only as import to the UK since 2001.

Be Careful What You Don't Wish For sees the project taken a step further and features 15 tracks of neo krautrock and post rock comedown. This album sees Chris getting in touch with his German roots and has everything from beautiful melodic Eno-esque cello and piano instrumentals, through to Giorgio Moroder's electronic repetition, krautrock inspired by 70's German bands Harmonia and Cluster, whilst also featuring some of the songwriting Chris was known for in Six.By Seven.

Be Careful What You Don't Wish For is released on Saturday Night Sunday Morning records on May 15th 2006 and distributed through Cargo.

The disc is available at a domestic price in the US through www.silbermedia.com

Interviews and questions, please e-mail whatthefuck@chrisolley.co.uk saturday night

sunday morning
records

snsn records, PO BOX 2833, Nottingham. NG1 4ZE